Assemblin H&S strengthens its presence in Stockholm with acquisition of Samsons Rör

Assemblin has acquired heating and sanitation specialist Samsons Rör AB (“Samsons Rör”) with operations in Greater Stockholm, 43 employees and annual sales of nearly SEK 100 million.

Samsons Rör was established over 30 years ago and offers heating and sanitation services in contracting assignments, service assignments and high-pressure drain flushing. Operations are conducted throughout Greater Stockholm. Customers include major property companies, property owners and construction companies, such as JM, HSB, Fastighetsägarna and Jernhusen, as well as local companies in the Stockholm region, such as Zengun and Meason.

“Samsons Rör is a well-run heating and sanitation company with a good reputation and a high degree of expertise. The company complements nicely our existing operations in Stockholm and also adds valuable experience in high-pressure flushing. We also address different customer segments, meaning that together we gain a stronger platform on which to work,” comments Andreas Aristiadis, President and Business Area Manager of Assemblin H&S.

“I am very proud of the company we have developed. Together with a new owner, we can continue to grow. Assemblin is a strong, long-term player with a strong customer focus and suitable culture, which is important. I am certain that this will be a beneficial and safe solution for us, our employees and our customers,” says Patrik Samson, founder and CEO of Samsons Rör.
